-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 – 9, drawn to a content information database system, and claims 10 and 11, drawn to a method of providing contents, classified in class 709, subclass 203.
- II. Claims 12 - 16, drawn to a system for registering content information, and claims 17, and 18, drawn to a method of registering a section for content information, classified in class 707, subclass 102.
- III. Claims 19, 20 and 21, drawn to a system and a method for calculating registration fees, classified in class 705, subclass 30.
- IV. Claim 22, drawn to a method of using an apparatus for indicating a broadcast channel of user preference, classified in class 725, subclass 39.
- V. Claim 23, drawn to a database, classified in class 725, subclass 55.

Inventions I, II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination V. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as an electronic program guide, capable of carrying out a variety of program guide tasks without the features of invention II. Invention II has a separate utility as a system for populating database via user interface, i.e. advertising/commercials booking system. Combination of group V is a broad claim encompassing both claims of group I and claims of group II. Invention III has a separate utility and a method of utilization as an accounting system for calculating registration and usage fees. Invention IV has a separate utility as a method for using an apparatus for indicating a broadcast channel of user preference, i.e. remote control device. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The inventions are distinct, each from each other because of the following reasons:

a. These inventions have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classifications and their recognized divergent subject matter.

b. The search that is required for one Group is not required for the other Group.

For the reasons given above, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to the applicant's representative (Mr. Richard Streit) on March 3rd, 2005 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is given ONE (1) MONTH, or THIRTY (30) DAYS from the mailing date of this communication, whichever is longer, within which to respond to this restriction requirement in order to avoid abandonment (35 U.S.C. § 133). Extensions of this time period may be granted under 37 CFR 1.136(a).
